Leadership & Management Program

GET READY...

HERE COMES

YOUR FUTURE

Leadership & Management

The Leadership & Management Program supports learners on their journey as whole healthy human beings able to offer effective leadership to their people and their communities.

This unique program includes options for a certificate, diploma or degree designed and offered by UnBQ. Many of the courses are also transferrable to Athabasca University, University of Alberta, University of Lethbridge, and University of Calgary.

The Journey begins with self transformation and growth, grounded in traditional Indigenous knowledge, and introduces learners to leading edge contemporary leadership and development wisdom aligning with Indigenous experience and philosophy.

The Program offers a ladder approach grounded in Indigenous Knowledge, beginning with:

- 1) a Leadership Certificate with a focus on introductory leadership concepts and personal growth, advancing to,
- 2) a Management Diploma which includes the more technical aspects of business, and completing with,
- 3) a Leadership & Management Degree introducing advanced leadership, research, and development concepts.

Most students complete the entire program in 5 years, however, students with transfer credit and/or strong personal and academic skills may accelerate their program. Credentials will not be awarded retroactively as program requirements change. Former students are advised that they must be currently registered active students and successfully complete the courses they are registered in to be eligible to be awarded a credential (certificate, diploma, degree).

The Leadership & Management program is open to people of all cultures and offers courses from an Indigenous perspective, inviting students to develop critical thinking skills and knowledge from diverse fields, including core business and management skills, and leadership approaches.
